STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES

on Diaspora Engagement in Shelter Assistance

From the Working Group on Strengthening and Mainstreaming Diaspora Engagement in Shelter Response

ABOUT THE STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES

In general, SOPs are a set of written steps that capture the best practices of a field or industry as applied in a specific organization. SOPs are often created to provide specific steps and ensure the repeatability and consistency of the performance of any type of process. Their development, implementation and revision procedure include: researching the steps in a procedure (plan); creating the procedure (do); verifying the procedure (test); and using the SOPs to standardize daily activity and revise as needed (act). However, while SOPs pave a pathway to greater efficiencies, creating and maintaining them should never become an aim in itself, as SOPs must serve the quality and efficiency of the interventions.

The Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) on Diaspora Engagement in Shelter Assistance are a step-by-step procedure for a more coordinated and effective engagement of diasporas in shelter and settlement response, with the ultimate goal of expanding and improving assistance in the shelter sector, at different stages of the crisis management cycle, for communities affected by disaster.

1. INTRODUCTION AND SCOPE

1.1. BACKGROUND

Displacement related to disasters, either man-made or natural, has continued to occur at an alarming rate, with 18.8 million people newly displaced in 2018,¹ and weather-related hazards, mainly floods and storms, triggering the vast majority of these new displacements.² In the wake of these disasters, and lack of resilient shelter in countries with limited resources, people have been dealing with the losses of loved ones and destroyed properties, while anticipating the long road back to individual and communal recovery. Furthermore, for those affected by disasters caused by natural hazards, vulnerability plays a key role in preventing people from fully recovering.³

Despite the efforts made by the international community to meet the ongoing demand for assistance and services, the humanitarian response consistently falls short of the need. This is particularly true in the shelter sector, where the international community is only able to meet a limited portion of the post-disaster demands, and often is constrained to target only the most vulnerable. Although shelter is regarded as a critical, life-saving need – alongside other key sectors such as health, food and protection – the scope and benefits of providing humanitarian shelter and settlement assistance are underestimated. This results in poorly integrated responses and a significant gap in meeting essential shelter needs of affected populations.⁴ The negative consequences of disasters on the shelter sector are compounded by needs that remain unmet over time, thus becoming further exacerbated when a new disaster strikes.

The need to support affected communities in their own response and reconstruction efforts, and the progressive recognition that shelter is a process, not just a product, has led to an increased emphasis on the need for engagement and partnership with other non-institutional actors, such as the same affected communities and diasporas that seek to help them, through remittances and other non-financial contributions. It is well known that diaspora involvement in humanitarian response is key; it traditionally takes the form of remittances that are sent back to families and communities in the countries of origin. However, the diaspora also plays a significant role in shelter response beyond remittances, and includes temporary or permanent return; mobilizing in-kind donations and volunteers' missions; providing technical skills and support to disaster-affected governments or local non governmental organizations (NGOs); providing direct assistance through NGOs; and pushing advocacy efforts, among others. Their ability to provide this assistance may contribute to closing the gap of unmet need and insufficient resources, whatever the types of disasters.

Despite the role that diasporas play to support the disasters-affected communities, in the shelter and other sectors, there is no formalized method of coordination for non-institutional actors such as diaspora organizations in shelter response; the development of these SOPs is crucial for the strengthening and mainstreaming of diaspora engagement in the Shelter Cluster for a more effective and coordinated response.

1.2. SCOPE OF SOPs ON DIASPORA ENGAGEMENT IN SHELTER ASSISTANCE

- 1.2.1. These SOPs are meant to propose a step-by-step procedure for a more coordinated and effective engagement of diasporas in shelter and settlement response, with the ultimate goal of expanding and improving assistance in the shelter sector, at different stages of the crisis management cycle, for communities affected by disaster.
- 1.2.2. These SOPs provide a recommended framework for inter-agency coordination, communication and cooperation between diasporas and shelter actors, with the Shelter Cluster, both at the global and country level, being the main reference platform.
- 1.2.3. Diaspora here is defined as “emigrants and their descendants, who live outside the country of their birth or ancestry, either on a temporary or permanent basis, yet still maintain affective and material ties to their countries of origin”.⁵
- 1.2.4. Diasporas’ engagement in the shelter sector here is defined as “engagement in a variety of shelter and settlement activities, which may include, but are not limited to, awareness-raising, communication, contribution to shelter solutions and support to financing, at every phase of the disaster management cycle (preparedness, response, recovery and reconstruction)”.
- 1.2.5. Although these SOPs are inspired by the work conducted with United States-based diasporas from Haiti, Bangladesh and the Philippines, they are designed in the hope they may be used in all crisis contexts, where diasporas intervene within the shelter and settlement sector.
- 1.2.6. Although these SOPs are intended for the shelter sector, they may be used, with needed adjustments, as a model for other sectors/clusters and for overall diaspora engagement in humanitarian assistance.
- 1.2.7. These SOPs are voluntary and non-binding, and are meant as a suggested framework to ensure that activities carried out independently by the diaspora are more coordinated and effective, while also more able to fill existing gaps in shelter response.
- 1.2.8. The suggested use of the SOPs is in their entirety; however, actors may choose to use segments or parts due to capacity, context and specific activities implemented.

5. International Organization for Migration (IOM)/Migration Policy Institute, Developing a Road Map for Engaging Diasporas in Development: A Handbook for Policymakers and Practitioners in Home and Host Countries (Geneva, 2012).

1.3. INTENDED AUDIENCE

- 1.3.1. These SOPs may be used by all diaspora organizations and other shelter actors involved in different capacities in the Shelter Cluster, at the global and/or country level, that may be willing to implement them.
- 1.3.2. Other key actors, such as government stakeholders and the private sector, are not the target audience; however, all are invited to use and sign them.

1.4. ROLES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND ACTIVATION OF SOPs

- 1.4.1. Global Shelter Cluster (GSC) partners may implement the SOPs as written, providing a technical and advisory role to diaspora organizations, groups and individuals seeking to provide activities and programming in any capacity, as detailed above, to improve coordination on the ground and avoid the duplication of efforts.
- 1.4.2. In-country Shelter Cluster or similar sectoral inter-agency coordination may implement the SOPs as written, providing a technical and advisory role to diaspora organizations, groups and individuals seeking to provide activities and programming in any capacity, as detailed above, to improve coordination on the ground and avoid the duplication of efforts.
- 1.4.3. A diaspora organization may implement the SOPs as written, working in coordination with GSC and/or in-country Shelter Cluster members to effectively coordinate their shelter response in line with the country-level Shelter Cluster plan.
- 1.4.4. Any diaspora organization or GSC actor can bring forth an event for consideration of SOP activation within the diaspora-designated framework. GSC leads would then inform in a timely manner all related parties with the Working Group the ideal venue for discussion and agreement of activation.

2. KEY PROCESSES

2.1. COMMUNICATION

- 2.1.1. The diasporas are often first responders, and receive information in more informal ways (social media, such as WhatsApp, etc.) from communities often not reached by traditional actors. Diaspora organizations could play an important role in enhancing shelter and settlement response at each phase of the response, by channelling relevant information from communities to and from the Shelter Cluster at country level. This is particularly important for issues relevant to AAP and advocacy.
- 2.1.2. Communication is essential to the improved coordination and cooperation among diaspora organizations and institutional shelter actors. Increased communication with institutional and expert actors may make the assistance provided by the diaspora more effective and qualitative.
- 2.1.3. The diaspora organization should communicate its coordination and technical Focal Point(s) to the inter-agency coordination team, if available.
- 2.1.4. The GST and in-country SCT members should be seen as preferable entry points for communication with institutional shelter partners. They will be able to help the diaspora organization in timely understanding of institutional humanitarian and technical landscape, and connecting with most relevant stakeholders at relevant global and national levels.
- 2.1.5. Some suggested channels for diaspora organization external communication may include:
 - Joining Shelter Cluster mailing and contact lists at global and country levels;
 - Depending on strategic, operational and technical levels of interest;
 - Reviewing regularly relevant websites (see Annex 2);
 - Creating a network hub for increased information-sharing with diaspora organization community and institutional stakeholders;
 - Establishing diaspora-specific hotlines at relevant levels (i.e. global and for countries of interest), to be activated following an agreed set of indicators for preparedness and response.
 - Designating specific Focal Points depending on the diaspora organization's set of interests.

2.2. COORDINATION

- 2.2.1. Greater coordination among diasporas and Shelter Cluster actors may be beneficial for both parties to increase effectiveness of the assistance.
- 2.2.2. For coordination and external communication at global level, the preferable interlocutor for diaspora organizations is the GST. If the targeted audience is at country level and no Shelter Cluster or similar inter-agency coordination mechanism is activated, it is recommended to first contact the GST for advice.
- 2.2.3. For coordination and external communication at country level, the preferable interlocutor for diaspora organizations is the SCT, if the targeted audience is at country level and that Shelter Cluster or similar inter-agency coordination mechanism is activated.
- 2.2.4. Some ways for increased coordination may include:
 - Creating a cluster-like system of diaspora organization Focal Points (at global and country level), including designated sector leads;
 - Creating a command centre that may lead diaspora organization internal and external coordination;
 - Defining steps for activation of diaspora internal SOPs;
 - Creating core teams for global, regional and local diaspora emergency response units;
 - Conducting regular consultations (calls, meetings, webinars, etc.), where Shelter Cluster actors/ Focal Points may be invited;
 - Attending GSC coordination calls, when possible;
 - Sharing with Shelter Cluster actors and other shelter actors databases, and/or rosters of experts and volunteers;
 - Taking into account needs assessment funding conducted by the Shelter Cluster;
 - Sharing information about the diaspora's current and prospect interventions, as to foreseen value added for preparedness and response.

2.3. COOPERATION

- 2.3.1. The diaspora organization should identify its areas for cooperation, around its defined thematic, technical and geographic objectives for the shelter and settlements programming. GSCs and SCTs could support the diaspora organization in navigating cooperation landscape, such as for identification of potentially relevant partners.
- 2.3.2. Diaspora organizations and traditional actors can work together to establish joint initiatives and programme implementation with Shelter Cluster actors, including by:
 - Establishing and sharing diaspora volunteers' and experts' rosters and networks, with core expertise relevant in the fields of shelter and settlements;
 - Mapping and sharing on-call technical experts;

- Elaborating joint proposals;
- Ensuring complementarities and avoiding overlapping of interventions;
- Contributing to all Shelter Cluster processes, including (a) needs assessments, gaps and duplication analysis; (b) response strategy and standards definition; (c) response planning and monitoring; (d) relevant response Technical Working Groups; (e) AAP; (f) learning consolidation; and (g) capacity-building initiatives.

2.4. FINANCING

- 2.4.1. Diaspora organizations may use these SOPs to engage with Shelter Cluster actors at a global level, to look for potential funding opportunities with institutional donors and partners. The diaspora organizations may use these SOPs to engage with Shelter Cluster actors at country level to seek potential funding opportunities, especially regarding pool funding, as inter-agency financing mechanisms.
- 2.4.2. The diaspora organization should engage Shelter Cluster Coordination Teams and actors at relevant levels to enhance the understanding of alternative access to financing for communities in need of safe shelter solutions.
- 2.4.3. GSCs and SCTs should engage with diaspora organization to explore ways to leverage BBS measures in shelter and settlements through financial transfer modalities.

3. DIASPORA ENGAGEMENT IN SHELTER AND SETTLEMENTS

3.1. PREPAREDNESS PHASE

Preparedness and disaster risk reduction activities are key to ensuring that strong systems and structures are in place to respond to the needs of the affected populations. The diaspora can play an important role in preparedness, as vital conduits of information flows and the promotion of preparedness messaging among communities are often not reached by traditional shelter actors. Preparedness activities and other disaster risk reduction best practices should be performed proactively.

3.2. RESPONSE AND RECOVERY

Diasporas play a key role in disaster response in their countries of origin. They are often first-line responders, quickly sending relief and financial aid, volunteers, and missions. Diasporas can offer a supporting role in shelter response in a way that complements, boosts, and amplifies assistance provided by other actors, extending the reach of the assistance to difficult-to-reach communities, tailoring the assistance to specific local needs and sustaining the response, even when other actors' interventions subside.

Diasporas play one of the most significant roles in post-disaster recovery. Studies show that remittances typically increase after a natural calamity hits overseas workers' countries of origin, and act as a safety net for households that have migrants abroad. Additionally, diasporas' intervention in the recovery phase may well complement other shelter actors' programmes, benefiting communities that fall through the cracks of the assistance, sustaining the engagement after other actors' initiatives end, and bridging the recovery phase with longer-term development interventions.
